“2008 Annual Marula Festival a resounding success”

Limpopo’s Annual Marula Festival has been a resounding success since its inception in 2006. Over 10 000 people have participated in the festival from the 29th February to 01st March 2008. We are pleased with the economic spin-offs that emanated from this festival which includes the promotion of SMMEs, tourism sector and the cultural heritage associated with Marula.

The participation of guests from various countries in the Region has indeed made a major contribution in the realisation of our goal for regional integration as contained in the Provincial Growth Development Strategy (PGDS). We are also proud of the fact that this festival has become a platform to foster nation building, particularly in view of its multicultural and multi-racial character, especially participation by people from our white communities.
