

Unregistered tourist guides refer to individuals who offer guiding services to tourists without proper authorization or licensing. This is why today we are at the new Peter Mokaba Stadium in Polokwane hosting a "stakeholders capacity building workshop on tourism legislation," which includes a new law that criminalizes unregistered guiding.

The tourism sector is one of the biggest job-creating sectors in South Africa. Therefore it should be properly regulated. One of its leading sectors that need strict regulation is tourist guiding as tour guides work with both domestic as well as international tourists whose safety as well as overall quality experience is dependent on their competency.
